

By THE EDITOR

There is no telling what mangling this column will undergo at the hands of the seniors next issue, so for the last time this year we stress again the importance of juniors, sophomores, and freshmen serving on the committee for reorganization of student government. There is still much hope and a good chance that the constitution may be completed and ratified by the Senate this year, and an important meeting will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the Union. If you feel that you have any worthwhile suggestions, forget your date tonight and attend that meeting, or bring the date along.

Senior Edition

For the benefit of those not familiar with the Kernel tradition, next issue will be written and published by graduating seniors, and will be all in fun, although it may contain some caricatures which, though overdrawn, strike home. The tradition is continued in the belief that at least once a year, one should ignore his self-esteem and laugh heartily at himself.

Pro-Fascist?

Next to the last letter of the year is this: wonder if your guest columnist of May 16 is pro-German, pro-Italian, or just a Fascist or Nazi. In 1917, the rich kids didn't fight for Jane May Democracy. They fought to save their own necks, and if they have any brains they will do the same in the next war. Surely your guest columnist couldn't be as dumb as he writes. I think he is either a Nazi or a coward.—R. L.

Wonder what you will think about the editorial today? It expresses somewhat similar sentiments. Although this may not be the opinion of the guest columnist, for our part we would rather be called a coward, slacker, or what have you than go to war on foreign soil.

Representation

And the second letter is this: "It is my understanding that the ORSG is contemplating a change in the method of representation... I understand that they plan to base representation on colleges rather than classes. If this is so, I think they have made a grave error in that it may be possible for all seniors to get in the legislature with no representation from the other classes. I will not be able to attend the meetings but would like for this point to be brought up."—J. G.

You are right about the plan of representation being changed, but your objection is also taken care of in the plan. For instance, under the new system the College of Commerce will have three representatives. One of these representatives will be a senior man, one will be a man from either the junior, sophomore, or freshman classes, and one will be a woman from any class. And for the College of Arts and Sciences, which has eight representatives, 2 will be senior men, 2 will be senior women, 2 will be men from the other classes, and 2 will be women from the other classes.

Farewell To Seniors

We would like to formulate some kind of farewell to the seniors, but as explained in an editorial today everything has been said before. But the rest of us who remain do wish the graduating seniors a lot of good luck and the best chances.—(Continued on Page Five)

Comment Corner

By ALLENBY E. WINER

That's Politic for You

A man had a store near a church in a certain North Carolina town and he sold beer and wine. Two years ago the state legislature passed a law banning the sale of wine and beer near the church. So the man moved his store.

Recently the congregation bought a new lot and built a new church. Again the man's store was in the restricted area. So the state legislature enacted a special bill to let the man sell wine and beer without having to move again.

Tom Lee, How-Haw

In Chicago, Tom Lee, Chinese laundryman, giggled so much when a bandit stuck a gun in his ribs that the bandit became frightened and fled. Lee told the police: "Me ticklish."

Oh, for the NRA

That nineteen inning baseball game up in Chicago Wednesday must have made New Dealers and the Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers. There was the time when baseball players didn't care so much about working time because the average professional game takes only a couple hours. But that fiasco on Wrigley field lasted exactly 4 hours and 41 minutes, and those boys really had to work! Without doubt they are very sorry President Roosevelt's NRA was declared unconstitutional.

Wish You Were Here

Some Bloomington, Michigan, high school students recently visited a southern Michigan prison. From the prison they mailed postcards to their teachers back home. The postcards read: "Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here."

Today the students are on probation.

CHANGES MADE IN JOINT SESSION OF COMMITTEE

Iglehart Will Replace Senior Buckley As Head

Three important changes were made this week in the student government constitution by the student-faculty committee on the reorganization of student government.

The changes adopted by the joint committee are:

- 1) substitution of a plan for representation in the student legislature by colleges of the University instead of by classes as formerly advocated.

- 2) inclusion of two freshman representatives elected by and from the freshman class, in the student legislature.

- 3) incorporation of a detailed definition of the composition, and powers of an election board in place of the nominating board in the original constitution.

Because the present chairman of the committee is a graduating senior, members thought that a permanent chairman who could lead the group until the plan was put in actual operation was necessary. Kernel Editor L. T. Iglehart, a junior, was elected to chairmanship.

REUNION PLANS SET FOR ALUMNI

Classes Endog In '4, '9 Will Hold Meetings

Reminiscence will reign—old times relived, old buildings re-entered, old walks re-walked, old friends re-made—as alumni of the University in the classes ending in '4 and '9 will return to the campus Thursday and Friday, June 1 and 2 to participate in reunion festivities planned by the Alumni association in connection with the commencement program.

Events of Thursday will officially begin with registration at 9 o'clock in the Alumni office in the Union building. Representatives of the Alumni association as well as of reunion classes will be on hand to extend a welcome and furnish complete information. At 10 o'clock, Class Day exercises will be held in Memorial hall, with Homer Thompson, president of the graduating class, presiding. A campus tour to familiarize the alumni with new buildings and improvements has been planned for 11 o'clock.

Noon will find the various reunion classes gathering for luncheons at downtown hotels, with informal talks the order of the day. Several reunion committees have planned "extra-curricular" activities, such as Bluegrass tours and special get-togethers, for the afternoon and evening. At 3 o'clock baccalaureate services will be held at Memorial hall, the sermon by Bishop William F. Anderson, Methodist church, retired.

Climax of the day's activities will be the annual Alumni banquet, to be held in the Bluegrass room of the Union. Major General Allen Gullion, of Washington, D. C., a member of the reunion class of 1914, judge advocate of the United States Army, will be the principal speaker. James W. Cammack, of Frankfort, class of 1924, judge of the Kentucky court of appeals, will act as toastmaster. Tickets for the banquet will be $1.00 each, and reservations may be made at the Alumni office, 6800 or 2289, any time prior to noon June 1.

Friday's program includes the annual commencement luncheon for guests, friends, alumni and faculty of the University at the Union building; the annual meeting of the Alumni association at the Union at 2 p. m.; President and Mrs. McVey's tea for alumni and guests at Maxwell Place from 3:30 to 6:00 p. m.; and commencement exercises on Stoll field at 6:30 p. m. ## Library Exhibits Geometry Models

Have you ever seen a stellated icosahedron, or a tesseract—two cubes arranged in such a way as to give the illusion of the fourth dimension?

These and many other figures are included in the display of models in solid geometry made by the classes in solid geometry taught by Mrs. Paula Pepper, of the mathematics department, now on display in the show case near the loan desk in the library.

The display includes figures made of linsglass, string, matches, wood, needles, wire, cardboard, and tennis, polo and ping pong balls. Each figure serves to illustrate some theorem of geometry. According to Mrs. Pepper, those students who build these practical demonstrations show a better knowledge and understanding of the problems which they represent.

YM-YW Members To Attend Meeting

Twelve University YM-YW members will attend the Blue Ridge conference, Blue Ridge, N. C., June 8-17, and the Talladega, Ala., conference, June 8-15.

Students tentatively planning to attend include Barbara MacVey, Ann Odor, Janet Ferguson, Helen Horlacher, Jean Marie McConnell, Gladys Kilpatrick, Emily Lou Turck, James Howell, Charles Bradford, Billy Karraker, Robert Spragens, and Arthur Meter.

Students Choose Nine Representatives Thursday

Fraternity men and women completely dominated the Union board election yesterday as nine members of Greek lodges were voted into office.

Completed returns late last night showed James Wine, Sigma Chi, leading the junior men with a total of 593 points. John H. Clarke, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, grossed 591 points; Lloyd Ramsey, Sigma Chi, 520 points; and Vincent Panelli, Phi Kappa Tau, 457 points. Nearest approach to the winning four totals were the 389 points of Robert Sweeney, Independent.

Among the junior women, Dorothy Hillenmeyer, Delta Delta Delta, lead with a total of 460 points, Susan Jackson, Chi Omega, was second with 243 points. Mary Saut was next to the winning two a total of 189 points.

Sophomores Maury Holcomb and John Conrad, both Phi Kappa Tau, were winners in that class with 394 and 394 points, respectively. Jackson was next with 172 points. Sophomore Frances Hannah, Omega, was elected with a total of 210 points. The other candidate, Jean Marie McConnell, Independent, fell short with a total of 113 points.

Voting was conducted by mail of the preferential ballot method. Voters ranked their choices for office. In the counting first place was given points equal in number to the size of the group to be elected. Second place was given one point less, etc. In yesterday's election, four men were to be elected from the first group of eight juniors. The voters ranged their four candidates in order. In counting, name ranking first on the ballot given four points, the second three points, the third place two points, and the fourth one point. This procedure was followed with all candidates according to the number to be elected, with the exception of sophomore women where only one candidate was to be selected.

This board, the first to be elected by students, will hold office during the 1939-40 school year. Candidates were selected by the retiring Union service committee chairman on the basis of work performed during the past year, scholarship, personality, leadership, and general fitness for the board.

Come On, Lowerclassmen, Show Your Interest

As the last regular edition of the KERNEL for the year goes to press, it is our undying hope that the student government constitution may be completed in time for ratification by the University senate next week.

Action of the committee thus far has been somewhat impeded by the addition of new members to whom each point had to be re-explained. But these new members have also brought with them new ideas and new suggestions. In spite of the fact that "uninitiated" members joining the committee now would somewhat hinder the progress of the whole, it is our firm belief that additional members, especially underclassmen, are needed for the work.

Although this call has been issued again and again, there is still a dearth of junior, sophomore, and freshman members. For the last time this year, we restate the old fact that present juniors, sophomores, and freshmen will be the classes principally affected next year by the constitution, and that if they do not voice their criticisms now, there will be very little justification for the same criticisms next year.

Won't It Sound Sweet?

While Europe continues its mad-cap mobilizations and diplomatic name-calling, and people in the United States grow more and more muddled about what to do in a case like this, two bits of literature pop up which illustrate the bloodless war now being fought between propaganda and cool-headed logic.

The first, an excellent example of the nauseating propaganda to which we are now being subjected, consists of the lyrics of a "patriotic" song written by that notorious flag-waver, George M. Cohan. Shockingly reminiscent of his late "Over There," it is entitled "We Must Be Ready," and reads as follows:

"Uncle Sam is not the kind
Than's looking for a fuss;
But if they should feel inclined
To take a shot at us—
Talk about your rallying
Should the bugle blow,
No delay or dallying,
Bang! And off we'd go!
We must be ready,
It's well to be ready,
You never can tell—you never can tell
In a fight, what they might prepare to do.
'They might compel us to yell, "We dare you to!"

And so we must get busy . . .
Contrast this soul-stirring bit of drill with a letter recently received by an outstanding weekly magazine. It was written by a young man of college age and is well worth one's consideration.

"Sir:
About the time I was beginning to walk and was fortunate that I couldn't understand it, preachers quoted the Bible and urged young men to kiss a pretty girl, join the army, and kill the wicked Germans. Today we wonder who really started the war, and know very well what a great mess it was . . .

Now I would be very foolish to assume that I was anywhere nearly as learned on international relations as our statesmen, but I do know one thing. These statesmen, if they live as long as most statesmen, won't live much longer, and so have nothing to lose. But I and my friends have to fight the war. Inasmuch as I am single, 23, and ripe for the army, I'd much rather hear a little reverse propaganda on the whole business. Besides, I'd rather kiss a pretty girl without joining the army—I might have the pleasure more often!"

J. H. S.

It's too bad they didn't set these latter words to music, instead of that cute little masterpiece of Mr. George M. Cohan's.—J. C.

Next Year's Freshmen Will Have Friends

During the course of the next school year, one will probably read in the Kampus Kernels quite frequently of "Freshman Advisory committee meeting, 5 p. m. today, Room 203, Union." To many, "just another KK," but to those who know, the announcement will mean that Dean Jones' or Dean Blanding's freshman advisers are continuing a work which has unlimited possibilities of service to the University.

As is the case with so many aspects of social service work, the action of these committees will probably proceed without a great deal of heraldry or appreciation by the student body. The advisers can not often display the results of their handiwork in public and say "See here, look what I've done." Superficially, at the end of the year, the freshmen under their guidance will appear to be essentially the same individuals they were at registration.

Consequently, committee members must look for their reward in the personal satisfaction and feeling of well-being which results from taking a dissatisfied, unhappy, and poorly acclimated student and seeing him develop under your guidance into a mentally healthy and valuable citizen of the college community.

Perhaps it is for the best, after all, because it will result in a committee composed of students interested in the work itself rather than in personal glory or public acclaim. These advisers won't expect to see an immediate revolution in student attitude, but they will have the satisfaction of knowing that if they, and their successors, do their work well, there will come a day when the growth of the University and the renown of its graduates will be the external manifestations of a harmonious balance and coordination of life within the "walls."

Sie Transit Gloria Mundi

So many well-wishes to out-going seniors have found places in the editorial columns of college papers that the only result has been triteness. Therefore, to avoid being trite, the lingua franca of journalism, nothing will be said about how much good luck they are wished by those remaining, and nothing will be said about how much they will be missed. All that will be said is that although the enrollment next September will remain approximately the same, those coming in then won't be quite like those going out now.

Behind The Eckdahl

By ANDREW C. ECKDAHL

Depressed by a multitude of unwritten term papers, unread books and looming finals, we take to the typewriter for the last time this year to bat out a humor column. It's a hard job—all is dark—we blanch when we think of the ordeal of the final week that is upon us. As ever, we turn to the philosophy of Don Marquis, but even he cannot put our mind at rest.

But when some inquisitive person wanted to know how long our candle would burn, we didn't say, "About a wick."

Note to Lexington patrolmen: When the light changed at Main and Limestone yesterday and the first car didn't move instantly, we were the fellow who didn't blow his horn.

Ode to Springtime
It's spring and you are far away.
I cannot hope that you'll be true,
But when you are kissing some other boy
Remember, it's spring here too.

—Wake of the News

When the chairman at the CRSG meeting rapped on the table and said, "Order," we didn't reply "Three beers."

Some KD has been trying to tell us that Warm Springs is the place where the President goes to get the hot water in which to keep the United States.

When the amateur carpenter wanted to know how long putty had to dry before he could paint, we didn't say "Putty long."

Please Note: Any similarity between the above gags and those appearing in Arch Ward's "Wake of the News" in the Chicago Tribune is purely coincidental.

Last afternoon at half after three, the press-day peace of the KERNEL newsmen was rudely shattered by the advent of a former reporter, Miss Bebe Ficklin of Charleston, W. Va., a small factory town not far from Pittsburgh. We really haven't much to report about Miss Ficklin, although she seems quite the saute. We haven't had a chance to question her, but if we manage to get in a question in time, we will make a full report next column, that is, next September.

The time has come for us to put the cover on our typewriter, close our jokebooks, let the KDs out of the doghouse, and bring this column to an end until September. Oh yes, we really should wish the seniors lots of luck—they're a great bunch, seniors today, WPA workers tomorrow. Which would cause the philosophic to say "Such is life" but we won't say it because we don't like life, or time.

We'll say "Hi Yo Silverman, Away" now, because we want to follow the advice of Robert Benchley, to "leave 'em with a laugh." Hahaha bahahahahaha.

Seating Arrangements For Graduation

This is the way commencement exercises will look to spectators seated in the south stands on Still field. Graduates will be "partitioned" off according to colleges. Parents and friends may look for graduates in the sections shown on the drawing above. Faculty and alumni will sit in the sections to the right and left of the students.

Looks Like This . . .

By ALLENBY WINER

Most important event of the school year was the introduction of a progressive constitution in Alumni gymnasium on Thursday evening, May 4. Approximately 3,000 students stayed away, even though it was well-known that the purpose of the constitution was to unite portentous knots from the fabric of campus politics.

Green areas of empty seats were conspicuous in the grandstand. That was understandable because it is almost an axiom that anything new and progressive on this campus is accepted skeptically, open-mouthed and doubtfully.

The devastating way in which thousands avoided the gym established a record low for enthusiasm. If it showed anything new at all, we believe the old record was set earlier in the semester when a program of Artie Shaw recordings outdrew a brilliant convocation speaker. Shaw's music attracted a milling mob to the Union grill and cafeteria. The speaker in Memorial hall had a difficult time controlling the volume of his voice to suit those who filled three rows down front.

Bombardment Time

It seems that many objectors to the new constitution fall to understand the great significance of the document. To carry the point further, it appears that they don't CARE to understand the significance. And so, as this is the last serious addition of the Kentucky Kernel for the school year, we hop at the chance to verbally bombard the mental backwoodsmen on the campus whose intelligence levels are still at the paper-doll age and whose ambitions to keep pace with campus affairs for the good of the campus are sorrowfully sub-normal.

This verbal lacing is not aimed at the many who offer constructive criticism for the constitution. It is leveled only at the mass of critics and professional cranks and gripers, who criticize just for the sake of criticizing and making themselves here.

Here, enumerated for simplicity, are several of the trite objections which the un-intelligentists make in protesting the constitution either in whole or in part:
1. "There will be much prestige lost by our (sorority or fraternity); we always do our best to get our candidates elected. Now that candidacy is stringently restricted we won't be able to get much of a name for ourselves on the campus."
2. "We independents are always getting a raw deal. Most likely there will be influence exerted by higher-ups in favor of fraternity men and sorority women."
3. "Some people are going to use the new governing system simply to gain points for various honoraries."

4. "There is going to be favoritism shown by the officers in suggesting campus policy."
5. "Bla, bla, bla."
Such is the tenor of the complaints. Mostly they are as completely nonsensical as the fifth point. Yet complaints of these patterns continue to be heard each day. We heard one coed remark, while sipping a soda in the Union grill: "Why should we favor such a constitution? It's bad enough that we'll soon have a hard time getting an officer elected in campus government; pretty soon they'll be making laws prohibiting the election of queens."

Whoever you happened to be, Miss, we feel awfully put out over the whole thing. It is too bad that your "combine" won't be able to push through an officer or so by the same dirt-throwing methods formerly used. And we're so sorry to hear that maybe someday you won't be able to elect a useless queen. Now isn't it an awful shame that grown-up girls like you must patter and squawk over such high-schoolish junk as this queen business! When it comes to talking sense and doing something worth while for the school, we bet that you and your

American Collegians Feel Lack In Present Educational System

No. 1 BMOC Most Interesting Fellow
No. 1 Screwball Bill Francis
Most Inimicable Steamboat Reid

From Pitt Hall comes a cute little story about Tridelt Jessie Francis. Jessie, it seems, was standing on the hall steps one night bragging to a chum that never in her life had she permitted a boy to kiss her. An unidentified but gallant young Southern gentleman, overhearing the distressed damsel's words, stepped up and graciously complied with particularly potent smooch. Chalk up one for cagy Miss Francis.

A few twelve-months back there was a very significant adage going around which went like this: "Pledge Chi Omega and get yourself married." Forewarning that this old motto may be revived was evidenced last week-end when exactly four 40 Chics were placed. Reading from left to right, they were: Nancy Ann Jackson to KA Al Moffett, Ann H. Davis to SAE Bob McGill, Jane Day to Sigmanus Gus Petro and Mary Louise Weisenberger to ATO Gopher Martin. The irony of the latter badging is that it took beautiful Mary Louise out of circulation exactly three days before Sour Mash announced her election as "Campus Sweetheart." In other words, it was Gopher against the world. Gopher must be a powerhouse.

And, say those dotting sorority sisters, we may expect any day to see a fifth Chic added to the above list. They are referring, tee hee, to Naomi Estill and Phil Delt Charlie Vance. . . . Loyal UKites were pleased Wednesday night to hear Kay Kyser play "On, On, U. of K." on his radio program. They were deeply chagrined a few minutes later, however, when not one of the obviously ignorant "students" in the hall could identify it. . . . Six to five that "That Sentimental Sandwich" and "The Lady in Love With You" will be the favorite ditties of University types in another week or so. Both of them make love to your eardrums. . . . Friends of Miss Bee Ficklen, a last semester's Kappa, who arrived yesterday to spend a few days on the campus, informed that No. 1 bachelor, Mr. Tucker of the journalism department, of her advent. Mr. Tucker gave the informers no quotes.

Vocational Training Is Greatest Need, Say Many

By JOE BELDEN, Editor
Student Opinion Surveys of America
Austin, Texas, May 18—Modern American education, in the opinion of the majority of the million and half college students now getting educated, is not meeting present day needs.

Six out of every one hundred students in our colleges and universities have some indictment to make. The Student Opinion Surveys of America have discovered this in a national poll conducted for the Kernel and eighty-seven other campus publications cooperating in these studies.

Some may say that the average college boy is a chronic complainer about his school work. But interviewers for the Surveys found that most of these students are able to put into words what they think education needs. The great cry is for more vocational training and specialized study. Overwhelmingly, collegians everywhere made that statement — although many were found who want colleges to change their courses of study with an emphasis on cultural background and liberal arts.

Of the year, today's column is the last one short of libel. So until next September, take it easy, greazle, people and don't get nerve.

Still, approximately every student approached seemed to say, "We are getting too much theory that we cannot use in finding a job when we step from college into a world crowded with unemployed." That attitude goes hand in hand with a recent poll taken by the Surveys in which students declared they believe they are facing a world that offers less opportunities than it did before they were born.

Whether the American college student is right or wrong the Surveys do not try to point out. This is merely a record of what they say and why. For example there are a good many who would like to see education "attuned to the world of today modernized." Faults, they say, are found in curricula that do not fit individual needs, and there are many incompetent teachers. This might be corrected, one student suggested, by paying faculties higher salaries.

Some state that schools should teach more patriotism, educate people to distinguish between democracy and "isms." There is too much emphasis on grades, some hold—and a few even complain that the courses they are now taking are "snaps"—too easy.

RAINBOW ON THE RIVER

There's a rainbow on the River Rouge by the Ford plant—oil in a thin coating, washed from metals and parts by the water used to cool or clean them.

To most folks that colorful coating spelled just oil; no more. To Ford men it spelled "waste." They dipped their fingers in it...

rubbed them together... reflected.

A few days later a strange device was installed where the stream flows through a narrow channel into the mooring slip. It was an oil skimmer.

Each month that skimmer reclaims thousands of gallons of oil. Reclaimed, it is used as fuel in the open-hearth building.

Poor Richard said straws show how the wind blows. That's how the wind blows at the Rouge. Pennies saved where pennies can be saved safely are multiplied into millions by large-scale Ford operations.

At the end of that rainbow on the waters of the Rouge, Ford owners find extra value, lower price.

High School Thinlies Will Vie In Annual Contest On Stoll Field

Representatives from 36 state high schools, the cream of Kentucky's 1939 crop, will meet on Stoll field today and tomorrow in the 20th annual state track and field meet.

The entries, survivors from eight district meets last week, represent the largest starting field ever to compete in the cinder carnival. Today's program of nine preliminary events is slated to open at 2:30 o'clock while the final events are due at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow.

According to marks posted in the district meets, at least one existing record is due to be shattered. The shotput mark of 48 feet 7 inches held by Schutte of Henderson should be bettered by Sengle of Louisville Manual, who pushed the weight 51 feet 3 inches in the district eliminations.

Manual, defending champion, will probably be the favored team. Last year Manual scored a total of 51 points to 30 for Highlands, second place winner.

This year, for the first time, the meet will be held over a two-day period and in light of the increased interest being shown in the state for track, the meet is expected to be the most successful tourney ever held.

The records that will be on the block are:

100 yard dash—Isaacs, Berea Academy, 4.35
200 yard dash—Woodward, Male, 9.9
440 yard dash—Eckert, Male, 21.5

Sherwood Plans To Resign For Medicine

After nine years of service to the University, Dr. T. C. Sherwood, associate professor of anatomy and physiology, will cease his work as instructor to carry on his studies at the University of Wisconsin.

During 1938 and 1937, in the absence of Dr. R. S. Allen, Doctor Sherwood was acting head of the department. It was, during this period that he took the lead in drawing up specifications for the newly completed wing of the new Biological Sciences building. Last year, in recognition of his outstanding work, both in the experimental and educational fields, he was raised to the rank of associate professor. Doctor Sherwood has had two years of medicine at Wisconsin, where he received his Ph.D. and M.A. degrees. He expects to return there this summer to resume his medical studies and to enter medical practice at the completion of his work there.

YM-YW RETREAT PRODUCES PLANS

Faculty-Student Meets Included In Projects

More intimate relationship between faculty and students will be advocated in next year's YM-YW program, adopted by association of officers at the annual retreat, May 13-14, at Camp Daniel Boone.

To accomplish this purpose the associations plan three types of faculty-student functions: (1) conferences to discuss University problems, (2) social gatherings to foster greater friendliness, and (3) socratic or intellectual group discussions.

The program was planned according to suggestions made by Dr. Huntley Dupre, political science department, who, speaking on the needs of the University and the place of Christian associations in the life of the University, declared that "intellectual dishonesty" is the cardinal sin of the campus.

During the coming school year the associations will attempt to place greater emphasis on religion and its relationship to life. In connection with this point, a three-day religion-in-life conference, similar to the one this year, will be held.

Other phases of the program are combating moral, intellectual, and spiritual disintegration on the campus; bringing students to a deeper understanding of the great social problems; and securing greater participation of all members in association activities.

A joint Freshman club, open to both men and women and similar to that of the past year, will also be organized.

WILDCATS TO VIE IN GOLF TOURNEY

Favored to regain the title lost last year, the Kentucky golf team, sporting a record of six wins in eight matches, will take part in the state intercollegiate tournament today and Saturday in Louisville.

But four state schools, Louisville, defending champion, Centre, Western and Kentucky, are expected to be represented in the sixth annual tourney. The 54 hole test will be contested over the Seneca Club route with 36 holes due in today's play and the other 18 coming tomorrow.

Two narrow wins over the University of Louisville this season pushed the Wildcats into the favored role. The Cats copied the first match of the season by a 10-8 margin while the second test was taken by 9½-8½.

In the race for individual honors, Kentucky's Captain Bill Adams, Julian James, of Louisville defending titlist, and Lee Molloy, Western's par-revolver, are expected to wage a bitter three cornered. Other members of the Cat squad are expected to be Milton Yunker, J. Granville Clark and Bobby Thaxton.

With Adams and Clark out of the line-up due to special examinations, Kentucky broke even in two Cincinnati starts to conclude the season, losing to Cincinnati Monday by 11-7 but nipping Xavier Tuesday by a 11-7 margin. Incidentally, it was Cincinnati that handed the Cats their other defeat of the year in their first start by a 16-5 score.

In addition to the two wins over Louisville, the Cats have trimmed Tennessee and Xavier twice this year.

CAT TENNIS MEN DEFEAT BERE A 9-0

In the concluding meet of the 1939 season, Kentucky's tennis team racked up its sixth victory of the campaign with an easy 9-0 win over Berea college Tuesday afternoon on the Downing courts.

The meet also brought to a climax Coach H. H. Downing's 18th season as Wildcat tutor. For the year, Kentucky's record book shows six wins, three losses and a 4-4 tie with Notre Dame in a match halted by rain in the deciding set.

During the season the Cats defeated Berea and Tennessee twice each and nipped Indiana and Sewanee while being trapped by Georgia Tech, Cincinnati and Michigan State.

For the first time in history Kentucky sent entries to the annual conference tourney when Lee Huber, Dave Ragland and Bobby Boone took part in the eliminations last week at Sewanee. After reaching the quarter finals Huber was defeated by Russell Bobbitt of Georgia Tech, defending champion and top-seeded. Ragland was trounced by Jack Bushman of L. S. U., who went to the finals while Boone was defeated by Goldman of L. S. U. in his first match.

Two or three movements are on foot on the campus to have more faculty-student groups next year meet for the purpose of discussing campus and national problems. Although it is very seldom that any tangible benefit results from these discussions, the discussions themselves are valuable in that they provide for the exchange of ideas and prevent us from lapsing into an apathetic attitude toward improve-

Reunions Will Be Held For "Old Grads" June 1, 2

Charles E. Planck, secretary of the class of '19, sends this letter for "reunions" of '19:

"Well, it begins to look as if this reunion of 1919 would be something to leave home about.

The more energetic and voluble members of the class have all written in that they intend to be there, referring, of course, to such individuals as Terrill Tapecott, John Leeman, Hugh Milton, Lee McClain, Alvin Kohn, George Reddish, Marcus Redwine, and many others. I know that I should identify all these people with titles and things, but when I knew them 20 years ago, they didn't have titles, and anyhow, they'll shed their dignity and titles at the city limits—or else.

It's funny, but the girls have not written your hard-working secretary. Surely they're planning to be there. A stag reunion might be all right, but I can't seem to raise a fever over it. Maybe the girls just are voicing it?

Those members fortunate to be living now in the vicinity of Lexington have been having meetings and making plans. They have a grand program all prepared—and it's not to be a stuffed shirt affair either. I seem to remember there is to be a banquet somewhere along the line, but even a banquet can be fun. We'll participate in the general festivities planned by the Alumni Association, but we plan to get out "on our own" and do some really satisfying re-unions.

Remember, it has been 20 years, two decades since we all met. It will be fun to be there, will you? By the way, they're preparing the intimate histories of each class, asking members to contribute reminiscences, memories, snapshots, accounts of events that in our day were big, all of this to be assembled and made available to all who might ask for it. I can handle some of the hysterical history of the Third Division of the Dorm (properly expurgated) but you'll all have to pitch in and add your personal chapters. You'd be very amused to read, over the dignified signature of Ezra Gillis, the suggestions as to what to write about. Such things as Putting the Mule in Chapel, the Policeman who lost his clothes, Firing the Cannon with a Cop Across It, Painting Numerals, He-Pat, She-Pat, Water in Paper Sacks—whe-w-w, that ought to be SOME history. I've got to have one for my daughter. It will help prove her old man was a hellar. But not unless you all contribute, everybody, men, women, and engineers. Send in your notes.

On to Lexington! Old friends, old times, old stories—new babies, new wives, new jobs! Fun!

Also from the reunion class of '19 comes this letter from Headley Shouse, chairman of arrangements, accompanied by a picture of a boy and girl in 1919 dress!

"Remember twenty years ago this June? Believe it or not we looked like this in 1919. What are we like now, in 1939? What have we lost in those twenty years? What have we gained? Whatever the changes, it will be interesting for the class of 1919 to review them together, and those of us who live in Lexington at the present time are extending to you a special invitation to "come home" and relive old days, review old friendships with us at our twentieth reunion.

A program has been arranged which we honestly feel you will enjoy.

A. GREYHOUND of course...

It takes no economics professor to tell you the best and most popular way to go home for your summer vacation. Greyhound has been a college favorite for years. To begin with, it costs less. There are no frequent departures so you can go and return when you please—the most convenience with stations right in the heart of town, many right on the campus.

Calling 'Em Wild

By JOE CREASON

It may be a lot like dressing now for a party to be held a week from Saturday but here are a few immature sport predictions for next year picked at random from "Poor Joe" Creason's combined almanac, weather chart and fisherman's guide.

September 1—This is the month when poison-ivy and Worlds Series forecasts are most prevalent; most of the baseball experts are by this time riding with the Cincinnati Reds, who are 9½ games out in front.

September 10—The suggestion of shortening the major league baseball season is resurrected; some advocate the American League's passing a rule to end the year as soon as the Yankees clinch the pennant, which would usually be early in July; the National League is advised to shut down as soon as Brooklyn announces it is looking for a new manager.

September 23—One week before the season opens, twelve obituaries appear on Kentucky's football chances; the general idea, as usual, is that the Cats are going no place except to the end of their schedule.

September 30—In spite of all the mean things that have been written about them, the Kentucky Wildcats claim as the mill pond in August, spill Virginia Military Institute blue-blood all over Stoll Field as they rack up 35 VMI players and a 45-0 win. The same night, Joe Louis lays Maxie Baer horizontal in 33 despite the red cross Max wears painted on his back over the words "non-combatant."

October 1—A stretch drive in the last week of the season clinches the pennant for the New York Giants. ("O. K. go ahead and think I'm nuts.") This is a very good time to harvest your cauliflowers. Rumors of the proposed field house, that was to be in use by January 1, will be revived as Alumni gym is over heated at a pep rally and burns.

October 7 — Blinding thunder storms and Kentucky's 14-6 win over Vanderbilt drives the second guessers and wise guys into their padded cells for the year.

October 14—Now that the World Series is ended, the Brooklyn Dodgers drop their "build for 1939" plans and begin building for 1940. Kentucky defeats the Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels with a 60-0 score. The cops are still tracking down a 1930 income tax evader and the Armenians are still starving.

October 21—The Georgia Bulldogs return to Atlanta crying the canine equivalent of "uncle" after being collared by a 21-6 score. U. S. weather bureau officials predict a mild winter as three days of sleet is followed by 18 inches of snow and the weather becomes so cold that red flannel undies turn blue. Tony Galento, on strength of his last few fights, is signed by the Philadelphia Phillies as a catcher.

October 27—One day before their game with Kentucky, U. S. immigration officials and the Dies committee open a quiet investigation of the Xavier Musketeers to see if Sheetz, Koplowitz, Steuer, Litzinger, etc., hold the proper naturalization papers. The investigation flops and so do the Muskies as Kentucky records a 33-0 win to avenge last season's loss.

November 1 — Open season on doves and losing football coaches. The turnover of losing coaches is faster than canned beans in a serve-yourself store.

November 4—The law of averages finally catch up with Kentucky and an 18 year drought is broken as the Cats dam the Alabama Tide with a 7-6 defeat. This win is accompanied by sadness equal to that expressed when yellow fever was conquered and Lexington is ready for a civil straight-jacket as it celebrates the victory.

November 6—The hat of Mace Brown, Pittsburg relief pitcher, is tossed into the ring for 1940 presidential nomination. Brown's platform states that in the past three fiscal years he has given more relief than President Roosevelt.

November 11—With Hoot Combs, Nolan Mullins and Dave Zoeller sweeping around the ends like fire around a celluloid collar, Kentucky runs over Georgia Tech by 20-0 to remain undefeated. Following games of this day, only Kentucky, Ursinus, Springhill, Catawaba, and Misquol Teachers remain unbeaten.

November 18—Kentucky sends the West Virginia Mountaineers back up their grape vine with a sound lacing. Reservations for Kentucky's place in the Rose Bowl are being received. General snow flurries over the state will drive the last Harlan coal striker back to work and Coach Adolph Rupp will make his first call for material to go into his fourth conference champion basketball team.

November 30—Tennessee knocks Kentucky's Rose Bowl dreams a long distance phone call away with a 3-2 win.

December 3 — Alabama, with a record of 2 wins, seven losses, is named to oppose Washington State (three won, seven lost) in the Rose Bowl. A cry is raised about bad seating but two days after the tickets are placed on sale the sign "standing room only" is nailed on the stadium gate. Time to darn socks for the Christmas visit of you know who. And so the year quietly comes to a close.

And so the year comes to a close as does this column for the season: until next fall, it's "30." Boy, my toupee, I'm off for the summer.

THINLIES TO GO TO CONFERENCE

In last Tuesday's Kernel Paul Durbin was credited with being captain of this season's Kentucky track team. Correctly written the story should have been Jim Doyle, captain of the team.

Kentucky's 1939 track team will be represented in the annual Southeastern Conference track and field meet by three performers, who left yesterday for Birmingham, Ala., where the meet will be held today and tomorrow.

The Cats who will compete are Paul Durbin, mile run; Jim Hardin, 220 yard dash and John Montgomery, two mile grind.

Coach Joe Rupert, who concluded his second year as Wildcat coach with a record of three wins, one loss and one tie, accompanied the cinder stars. During the season Kentucky rolled over Cincinnati, Hanover in dual meets and defeated Georgetown and Berea in a triangle meet. Vanderbilt nosed out the Cats while Tennessee was deadlocked.

BLUES CHALK UP 18-5 FROM XAVIER

Back in baseball prosperity following three successive wins, the Kentucky Wildcats will nail shut their 12 game schedule for the season against the Tennessee Vols tomorrow afternoon in Knoxville.

For Kentucky the game will offer a chance to pull its record for the year up to the .500 mark. In a previous meeting on Stoll field the Wildcats whacked all available Vol pitchers for 16 hits and an 18-5 win.

In the last home game Tuesday afternoon, Kentucky banged three Xavier Musketeer pitchers like a fire house gong and slammed out a 24-9 victory. The Cats went after the Muskies like men with parched throats go for ice water and collected a total of 21 hits.

During the first four innings Kentucky's long range fans were kept fairly silent by Bill Kopp except for a two run uprising in the second and the Cats trailed by 4-2. Then Shepherd ignited the batting powder with a sizzling single into center field and before the rebellion was snuffed 13 runs had been scored, 16 men had batted, 10 hits were on the records and the game on ice.

Even then, when Russ had replaced Kopp and finally retired Kentucky, the marathon was not over for in the eighth frame 6 hits, two base on balls and one hit batter produced 9 runs. In the big fourth inning Shepherd, Fritz and Carnes each contributed two hits to the massacre.

The game not only proved that the Cats definitely can hit but that they can also field for but a single error was committed. Previously, the idea had prevailed that the Blues could not stop a clock with a sledge hammer in the field.

George Tognocchi opened on the mound for Kentucky but was as far off his usual form as a four sided triangle and gave way to Carl Staker in the fifth after granting 6 hits and 5 runs. Staker, too, was as shaky as an alibi and was traded for Link Ellington after completing the inning, in which Xavier scored four runs. Throughout the remainder of the game Ellington kept the batters under strict order allowing but one run on two hits in the sixth.

Shepherd's single in the sixth was like waving a roman candle in a powder dump. Fritz creased Kopp's trousers with a single through the box and Cardwell, batting for Staker, walked. Shepherd then scored on a passed ball. That was enough for Kopp but not for Kentucky for the attack was kept up against Russ, who ascended the mound.

Tice walked, and scored behind Cardwell on Carnes hit to center. Whittey lashed out a long single that counted Carnes and galloped home when Phillips clipped the right field wall with a triple. Raine was a victim of the first out. Russ to Carroll. Martin reached first and Phillips home on an error and Shepherd, up for the second time, laced another single to left. The bases were cleared on Fritz's triple and Ellington, batting for himself, in six tries, including two triples looped a single to center. Tice and a double. Carroll led the Muskies' 10 hit attack with three safeties in five attempts.

Kentucky's attack was paced by Captain Randal Phillips, the only senior on the team, with four hits

Seeing is Believing!

HERE'S AN INTERESTING CIGARETTE COMPARISON... See how it's made by college student Bob Hendrickson

SMOKERS all over the country are learning what Robert S. Hendrickson, Jr. (right) is showing a group of classmates. It's a striking way to compare cigarettes by simply watching them burn! Bob is testing the leading brands to find the one that burns slowest! Which brand won? C-A-M-E-L... by a wide margin! The reason? Costlier tobaccos, expertly blended in a cigarette that burns slowly, completely — smokes cooler, of course!

Recently, a group of scientists ran this interesting laboratory test on a bigger scale: 16 of the largest-selling cigarette brands were rated impartially. CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED — 25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR THE OTHER BRANDS. (Camels were remarkably consistent.) IN THE SAME TEST, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME FOR ALL THE OTHER BRANDS.

Camel is the cigarette of costlier tobaccos... cool, mellow, appealing in taste, so uniformly delightful!

Smoking is Believing!

WHEN you've enjoyed the thrill of a mellow, ripening Camel, you'll know that NOTHING can take the place of costlier tobaccos! What a pleasure it is to get set with a cigarette that is really mild — a matchless blend, made to give you all the enjoyment in smoking.

Camels have more tobacco by weight than the average of the 15 other brands tested. Besides, Camels burn slower than any of those other brands. And by burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands, Camels give you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!

Camels give you even more for your money when you count in Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos. Buy shrewdly! Buy Camels... America's first choice for a luxury smoke every smoker can afford!

"Look how slowly the Camel burns compared to the other brands," Hendrickson points out. Everyone agrees that Camels win hands down. "No wonder Camels smoke so cool and mild," Bob adds. "And that must have a lot to do with why Camels have such an appealing taste!"

Camel's slower burning (compared to the average time of the 15 other brands tested) gives you the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack! You economize while enjoying smoking pleasure at its best!
